

Understanding the Differences Between You and Your Spouse

Lesson 20

Homework

Questions

1. Without a _____ to understand the differences between you and your spouse, it is nearly impossible to have a happy and productive marriage.
2. Women have a deeper interest in people and feelings —in _____.
3. If the husband would allow his wife to be the helper that God intended, and if the wife chose to be the helper to her husband that God intended, it could open up a new world of _____ and _____ relationships.
4. Generally, speaking, most women develop an _____ with people and places around her.
5. When it comes to emotional differences, men tend to express themselves more through _____ and/or challenging or even stressful situations.
6. A woman has _____ kidneys, liver, stomach, and appendix than man, but _____ lungs.
7. A woman's blood contains more water and _____ percent fewer red cells.
8. The man does not generally have her _____ of what the relationship should be.